I recommend reading the official “what’s new” with Lightroom 5 in the official help area , and reading the Lightroom 5 Help Center that outlines the new features. One of Photoshop’s most desirable features is its tagging capabilities. ADS5 allows you to tag images automatically with keywords, ratings, captions, and other metadata automatically from the digital camera. That’s exactly what Adobe has built into the new version of Lightroom, too. After a few years of development, the various presets in Lightroom have finally graduated to their own preset system. By clicking the Info Button in the top right corner of the Presets panel, you will find a new panel on the left with presets for Retouch, DNG Fix, DNG Fix Pro, DNG Fix Without Color Profile, DNG Fix Without Metadata, DNG Fix Without Sources, Resample, Adjust Light Level, and others. The new Lightroom 5 application provides more presets than ever, and there are options for saving the presets so they may be loaded back in.
